Special Systems supplies e-brokerage and e-trading systems to Al Dar Shares and Bonds

Leading IT Special Systems in Amman is supplying Al Dar Shares and Bonds of the United Arab Emirates with its latest e-brokerage back office system (BrokerManager) and the internet-trading / order management system (OrderManager).

The deal was signed recently with the top brokerage firm. Mr. Kifah Maharmeh, General Manager of Al Dar says: 'We are replacing our current systems with Special Systems' solutions because of their high level of reliability, security, and advanced features.' He adds these will solve Al Dar's current problems and meet their business requirements.

'We decided to do this also because Special Systems has a reputation of outstanding operational support in the UAE and Jordan,' points out Maharmeh who is general manager of one of the 10 top leading brokerage and investment houses in the Abu Dhabi Securities Market and the Dubai Financial Market.

This will be the third brokerage house in UAE that selects Special Systems' brokerage and internet-trading solutions and such a deal will give it a leading edge in the area but will also increase the area of cooperation between firms in Jordan and the UAE.

Mr. Ala'a Abu Alaish, Sales Manager at Special Systems is delighted with the deal: 'Special Systems has extensive experience in stock markets in Jordan and the Gulf States and the close connectivity between the development and technical support staff has been translated into know-how and assisted in developing and improving special systems' solutions and support services to guarantee it's clients a timely and safer delivery and operations,' he says.

'Special Systems brokerage and internet trading solutions are designed with scalability in mind aiming to address the current and future needs of brokerage firms and stock markets, and provide an efficient service,' he added.

Special Systems was established in 1978 as the first IT company in Jordan and currently has operations in Jordan, Qatar, and UAE. Special Systems holds the major brokerage market share in Jordan and its expanding its market share in the GCC countries.

It strongly believes in the power of technology and research, particularly in its progress and evolution to accommodate the ever growing stock market's needs for new technologies, security, and reliability.
